

FOLDING CHAIRS TO RENT

FOR THE 250TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

HENRY ALLEN & SON,
83 Main Street.

June 24

Handy to Take Home

A BRICK OF REID'S
NEW YORK

Ice Cream

Keeps hard one hour.
Mixed or plain.

Quarts 40c Pints 25c

N. D. Sevin & Son

SEND YOUR ORDER

TO—

CARDWELL

NOW before the Rush

571d

The Carriage Man,

M. B. RING

Call and see me about anything in the Carriage Line.

LOW PRICES.

Horse Shoeing a specialty. 572d

PORCH COLUMNS

COLONIAL COLUMNS

PORCH RAIL

BALUSTERS and SPINDLES

—at—

FRED C. CROWELL'S,

87 Water Street.

Open Saturday evenings till 8 p. m.

June 24

Norwich Celebration

The finest Souvenir—STER-LING SILVER SPOON, showing seven different subjects.

Something every one can keep.

The Plant-Cadden Co.

Jewelry and Silverware.

Estab. 1872. Norwich, Conn.

OPEN HOUSE CLUB.

The regular lunch will be omitted on Monday and Tuesday, July 5th and 6th.

Sandwiches, Iced Coffee, Tea and Lemonade will be on sale both days. Patrons of restaurant wishing Noonday

Lunch will be served at the Haile club, where from 12 to 2 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday there will be lunch at fixed price of 40c.

575d

WOLF

The Fanning Studios,

31 Willow St.

Showing this week

MUSLIN and LACE

CURTAINS

Special value and very fine designs.

Wall Papers, Carpets, Shades,

Furniture, Wood Floors.

may 31d

CHIROPY and MANICURE

Treatment of Corns a specialty.

Also Hairdressing and Shampooing.

Puffs, Switches and Pompadours made from your own combings.

MRS. B. BURTON,

Chapman Block. Broadway.

June 7d

Delivered to Any Part of Norwich

The Ale that is acknowledged to be the best on the market—HANLEY'S PEERLESS. A telephone order will receive prompt attention.

D. J. McCORMICK, 30 Franklin St.

may 29d

DR. CHAS. B. LAMB,

VETERINARIAN

Office at Dodge's Stable, Bath Street.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Tuesday, July 6, 1909.

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 8 a. m.
Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will consider a favor by reporting the fact to The Bulletin Co.

THE WEATHER

Forecast for Today.

For New England: Increasing cloudiness Tuesday; showers Tuesday night and Wednesday; winds shifting to moderate east.

Predictions from the New York Herald: On Tuesday partly cloudy to overcast weather and slowly rising temperatures will prevail, with light, variable winds, followed by local rains in this section, and on Wednesday partly cloudy weather with local rains and slightly higher temperature.

Comparisons.
Predictions for Monday: Fair; cool;
variable northerly winds.
Monday's weather: As predicted.

Sun, Moon and Tides.		Sun		High		Moon
Day.	Time.	Rises.	Sets.	Water.	P. M.	Rises.	P. M.
6	4:30	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
7	4:20	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
8	4:10	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
9	4:00	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
10	3:50	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
11	3:40	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15

Six hours after high water it is low tide, which is followed by flood tide.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FLOATS IN PARADE.

Designs Were Finely Executed by Schools, Manufacturers and Business Houses, and Added to Pleasure of the Celebration.

The two sections given over to the floats were well filled out, there being 41 of these prettily decorated wagons and much time and expense were involved in bringing about the attractive results. There were many designs which required thought and patience to work out, but there was none which did not add to the attractiveness of the parade. The floats and a description follow:

Norwich Home Academy—"Colonial Home Life." Complete colonial containing, showing the family, with fireplace and big pot in which dinner is cooking, the small boy, Humeley Almy, turning the spit; grandmother, Miss Mary Newland, knitting; mother,
Miss Lois Perkins, spinning; father,

William E. Perry, cleaning gun; son, Benedict C. Perry, whittling; daughter, Miss Henrietta Gardner, sewing; little girl, Miss Dorothy Jones, rocking
the cradle.

Breadway school—"Revolutionary Soldiers." Depicting Gen. George
Washington in conference with Gov.
Jonathan Trumbull on the lawn at the home of Jedediah Huntington at Witch Town, all in complete costume.
George Washington, Theodore Hav-iland; Jonathan Trumbull, Edwin Sherman; Jedediah Huntington, Channing Huntington; Washington's body guard, Ernest Smith, Fitch Jewett, Carl Kinney, Harold Robinson, Ronald Kimball, colonial soldiers, Frederic, Cora Bell, Francis Forsberg, Everett Peckham, James Stanley, Avery Gallup.

West Chelsea school district—"Under the Tree." A tree and there was here, the float being trimmed with evergreen, roses and the British flag and was drawn by four horses. The table was a trunk of a tree and there was a wigwag and a dog. The characters were: Major Mason, Leroy Swan; Rev. Mr. Fitch, Edgar Weiden; Mr.
Tracy, Tyler Stanton; women, Elizabeth Evans, Rosa Beckley; Uncles, Bennie Weinstein; sons, Clarence
Whitaker, James Mulcahy; braves, Gedaliah Segal, Felix deBarros, Walter Newbury; Indian boy, Frank Lamb; Indian women, Fanny Schulman, Jennie Swatowicz.

Falls school—"Indian Life." A white birch tree in a grove of white birch, cedar and elderberry, with twenty school children in Indian costume, chiefs, braves, and squaws, the girls doing beadwork, the boys making snow shoes, and a squaw grinding corn with an old fashioned Indian mortar and pestle. Red plumes on the four horses.

Bridge district school—"The Rose of New England." A beautiful bower of pink roses within which on seats in pyramidal arrangement was a group of thirty boys and girls, as "The Rosebuds," and at the apex "The Rose Queen," Lucy Blackburn. Plumes and races on the harness of the four gray horses.

Town street school—This float represented the old liberty pole and tent which used to stand on Norwich Town

Henry A. Tirrell,
Chairman on Schools.

Yantic school—"Yantic." This float represented the Yantic river, the Yantic mill, the Yantic bridge, the Yantic school, the Yantic church, the Yantic cemetery, the Yantic village, the Yantic town, the Yantic county,
the Yantic state, the Yantic nation,
the Yantic world, the Yantic universe, the Yantic everything.

The United States Finishing Co. had one of the most attractive of the floats in line. On a rectangular frame with an arched roof were displayed in six sections, two on each side and one on each end, the productions of this big plant, including mercantile, domestic and differentiated, printed, printed and serpentine creases. On top of the roof was the name of the corporation in letters on a blue background, below which was indicated the branches constituting the company. The arched roof was covered with stripes of red, white and blue, and the sides were decorated with a scheme. The float was the design of Frank H. Lester.

The Norwich Belt Mfg. Co. displayed as the product of their plant, a variety of belts, of leather, belting and leather on a square float, ten feet long by eight wide, handsomely decorated with a variety of designs. Lengthwise of the float was the name of the company. In the center was a large 2-ply belt, 52 inches wide, 10 feet long, which was flanked by two ones, each 24 inches wide and 5 feet long, required a total of 240 steel hides. The entire process took place in the company's big lannery in Greenfield.

The Clinton Woolen Mills float illustrated the production of their plant. On a platform 3x15, was a four foot fence, as posts of spools of roving off the cards. Between these posts were bobbins and yarn, above the fence was a four foot lattice work, made of twisted strings of carded cloth. In the corners were topped up bobbins of yarn. In the center stood a ten-foot pole, supporting a canopy of twisted billiard cloth. The front, red, white and blue burlap, was draped. A basket of pure white wool and a beam of warped yarn ready for the loom also were shown. The horses were broadcloth blankets, bearing the name of the company in letters of gold felt. The float was designed by L.
H. Saxton, assisted by Mrs. Saxton.

Hepkins—"Hepkins." Representing
the firearms industry this company had an attractive float. In the center on a base 14x5 was a pyramid, surmounting which was a flag of each country, representing the export trade.
At each corner was a staff with banners with the name of the company, and on the skirt "Hopkins & Allen arms circle the globe." At the corners there were stacks of rifles and guns, and on top of each staff was a revolver. Flowers and colors on the pyramid with other floral decorations made a pretty effect. White flowers in a green background formed the name of the company on the pyramid.

The McCrum-Howell company's float was drawn by six horses, containing a display of heaters and bathtubs, refrigerators of several sizes, displaying the products of their local industry.
The float attracted much attention.
On their second float was a display of radiators of several sizes, showing the products of their local industry. The floats contained their business cards and made a pleasing exhibit.

Geduldig, the Herlet, had a float complete with a variety of goods, including a display of heaters and bathtubs, refrigerators of several sizes, displaying

the products of their local industry.
The float attracted much attention.
On their second float was a display of
radiators of several sizes, showing the products of their local industry. The
floats contained their business cards
and made a pleasing exhibit.

Green, there being a tent and pole with the boys aboard in costume of the times. They were Walter Crabtree, John Hughes, Clifford Lathrop, Arthur Mullen. The float was decorated with bunting and flags.

Greenfield grammar school had a reproduction of "The Little Old Red School House on the Hill," the place where our forefathers gained their early store of knowledge with patient-tell, the time when men rose in spite of their lack of learning, in contrast with the present, when (it is said) men

Lewis H. Church,
Chairman Hospitality Committee.

Green, there being a tent and pole with
the boys aboard in costume of the times. They were Walter Crabtree,
John Hughes, Clifford Lathrop, Arthur
Mullen. The float was decorated with bunting and flags.

Greenfield grammar school had a reproduction of "The Little Old Red
School House on the Hill," the place
where our forefathers gained their
early store of knowledge with patient-
tell, the time when men rose in spite
of their lack of learning, in contrast
with the present, when (it is said) men

FIRST SHIP ASCENSION MADE

Capt. Baldwin Got a Flight Out of California Arrow—Went Up Three Hundred Feet Successfully After Circling About the Grounds.

Forecast for Today.

For New England: Increasing cloud-
iness Tuesday; showers Tuesday night
and Wednesday; winds shifting to moderate east.

Predictions from the New York Herald: On Tuesday partly cloudy to overcast weather and slowly rising temperatures will prevail, with light, variable winds, followed by local rains in this section, and on Wednesday
partly cloudy weather with local rains
and slightly higher temperature.

Comparisons.
Predictions for Monday: Fair; cool;
variable northerly winds.
Monday's weather: As predicted.

Sun, Moon and Tides.		Sun		High		Moon
Day.	Time.	Rises.	Sets.	Water.	P. M.	Rises.	P. M.
6	4:30	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
7	4:20	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
8	4:10	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
9	4:00	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
10	3:50	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15
11	3:40	7:34	10:55	8:35		11:45	10:15

Six hours after high water it is low tide,
which is followed by flood tide.

GRAND DISPLAY OF

FLOATS IN PARADE.

Designs Were Finely Executed by
Schools, Manufacturers and Business Houses, and Added to Pleasure of the Celebration.

The two sections given over to the
floats were well filled out, there being
41 of these prettily decorated wagons
and much time and expense were involved in bringing about the attractive
results. There were many designs which required thought and patience to work out, but there was none
which did not add to the attractiveness
of the parade. The floats and a description follow:

Norwich Home Academy—"Colonial
Home Life." Complete colonial containing, showing the family, with fireplace and big pot in which dinner is
cooking, the small boy, Humeley Al-
my, turning the spit; grandmother,
Miss Mary Newland, knitting; mother,
Miss Lois Perkins, spinning; father,

William E. Perry, cleaning gun; son,
Benedict C. Perry, whittling; daughter,
Miss Henrietta Gardner, sewing;
little girl, Miss Dorothy Jones, rocking
the cradle.

Breadway school—"Revolutionary
Soldiers." Depicting Gen. George
Washington in conference with Gov.
Jonathan Trumbull on the lawn at the home of Jedediah Huntington at Witch Town, all in complete costume.
George Washington, Theodore Hav-
iland; Jonathan Trumbull, Edwin Sherman; Jedediah Huntington, Channing
Huntington; Washington's body guard,
Ernest Smith, Fitch Jewett, Carl Kin-
ney, Harold Robinson, Ronald Kimball, colonial soldiers, Frederic, Cora Bell, Francis Forsberg, Everett Peck-
ham, James Stanley, Avery Gallup.

West Chelsea school district—"Under the Tree." A tree and there was
here, the float being trimmed with
evergreen, roses and the British flag and
was drawn by four horses. The table
was a trunk of a tree and there was
a wigwag and a dog. The characters
were: Major Mason, Leroy Swan; Rev. Mr. Fitch, Edgar Weiden; Mr.
Tracy, Tyler Stanton; women, Elizabeth Evans, Rosa Beckley; Uncles, Bennie Weinstein; sons, Clarence
Whitaker, James Mulcahy; braves,
Gedaliah Segal, Felix deBarros, Walter Newbury; Indian boy, Frank Lamb; Indian women, Fanny Schul-
man, Jennie Swatowicz.

Falls school—"Indian Life." A white
birch tree in a grove of white birch,
cedar and elderberry, with twenty
school children in Indian costume,
chiefs, braves, and squaws, the girls
doing beadwork, the boys making
snow shoes, and a squaw grinding corn
with an old fashioned Indian mortar
and pestle. Red plumes on the four horses.

Bridge district school—"The Rose
of New England." A beautiful bower
of pink roses within which on seats in pyramidal arrangement was a group
of thirty boys and girls, as "The Rose-
buds," and at the apex "The Rose Queen," Lucy Blackburn. Plumes and
races on the harness of the four
gray horses.

Town street school—This float represented the old liberty pole and tent
which used to stand on Norwich Town

Henry A. Tirrell,
Chairman on Schools.

Yantic school—"Yantic." This float
represented the Yantic river, the Yantic mill, the Yantic bridge, the Yantic school, the Yantic church, the Yantic cemetery, the Yantic village,
the Yantic town, the Yantic county,
the Yantic state, the Yantic nation,
the Yantic world, the Yantic universe,
the Yantic everything.

The United States Finishing Co.
had one of the most attractive of the
floats in line. On a rectangular
frame with an arched roof were
displayed in six sections, two on
each side and one on each end, the
productions of this big plant, including mercantile, domestic and differentiated, printed, printed and serpentine creases. On top of the roof was
the name of the corporation in letters
on a blue background, below which
was indicated the branches constituting
the company. The arched roof was covered with stripes of red, white and
blue, and the sides were decorated
with a scheme. The float was the design of Frank H. Lester.

The Norwich Belt Mfg. Co. displayed
as the product of their plant, a variety of belts, of leather, belting and
leather on a square float, ten feet long
by eight wide, handsomely decorated
with a variety of designs. Lengthwise
of the float was the name of the company. In the center was a large 2-ply belt, 52 inches wide, 10 feet
long, which was flanked by two
ones, each 24 inches wide and 5 feet
long, required a total of 240 steel
hides. The entire process took place in the company's big lannery in Greenfield.

The Clinton Woolen Mills float illustrated the production of their
plant. On a platform 3x15, was a four
foot fence, as posts of spools of roving
off the cards. Between these posts were bobbins and yarn, above the
fence was a four foot lattice work,
made of twisted strings of carded
cloth. In the corners were topped up bobbins of yarn. In the center stood
a ten-foot pole, supporting a canopy
of twisted billiard cloth. The front, red, white and blue burlap, was
draped. A basket of pure white wool
and a beam of warped yarn ready for
the loom also were shown. The horses were broadcloth blankets, bearing the name of the company in letters of gold
felt. The float was designed by L.
H. Saxton, assisted by Mrs. Saxton.

Hepkins—"Hepkins." Representing
the firearms industry this company had an attractive float. In the center on a base 14x5 was a pyramid, surmounting which was a flag of each country, representing the export trade.
At each corner was a staff with banners with the name of the company,
and on the skirt "Hopkins & Allen
arms circle the globe." At the corners
there were stacks of rifles and guns,
and on top of each staff was a revol-
ver. Flowers and colors on the pyramid with other floral decorations made a pretty effect. White flowers in a green background formed the name of the company on the pyramid.

The McCrum-Howell company's float
was drawn by six horses, containing
a display of heaters and bathtubs, refrigerators of several sizes, displaying
the products of their local industry.
The float attracted much attention.
On their second float was a display of
radiators of several sizes, showing the
products of their local industry. The
floats contained their business cards
and made a pleasing exhibit.

Green, there being a tent and pole with
the boys aboard in costume of the times. They were Walter Crabtree,
John Hughes, Clifford Lathrop, Arthur
Mullen. The float was decorated with bunting and flags.

Greenfield grammar school had a reproduction of "The Little Old Red
School House on the Hill," the place
where our forefathers gained their
early store of knowledge with patient-
tell, the time when men rose in spite
of their lack of learning, in contrast
with the present, when (it is said) men

Lewis H. Church,
Chairman Hospitality Committee.

Green, there being a tent and pole with
the boys aboard in costume of the times. They were Walter Crabtree,
John Hughes, Clifford Lathrop, Arthur
Mullen. The float was decorated with bunting and flags.

Greenfield grammar school had a reproduction of "The Little Old Red
School House on the Hill," the place
where our forefathers gained their
early store of knowledge with patient-
tell, the time when men rose in spite
of their lack of learning, in contrast
with the present, when (it is said) men

FIRST SHIP ASCENSION MADE

Capt. Baldwin Got a Flight Out of California Arrow—Went Up Three Hundred Feet Successfully After Circling About the Grounds.

Forecast for Today.

For New England: Increasing cloud-
iness Tuesday; showers Tuesday night
and Wednesday; winds shifting to moderate east.

Predictions from the New York Herald: On Tuesday partly cloudy to overcast weather and slowly rising temperatures will prevail, with light, variable winds, followed by local rains in this section, and on Wednesday
partly cloudy weather with local rains
and slightly higher temperature.

Comparisons.
Predictions for Monday: Fair; cool;
variable northerly winds.
Monday's weather: As predicted.

crossed the starting point and again crossed the track. Here he threw out his 350 foot cord, which is kept on board for communication with the ground, and turning the steering plane downward, he flew to the ground a distance from the judges' stand. Still occupying his place in the frame, Captain Baldwin and the alrathip were taken back to the tent.

The California Arrow was in the air only about five minutes. The flight was started at 7.05 and before 7.35 was safely housed for the night.